THE WIDEST RANGE WITH BEE PRODUCTS

Pleva

About the firm

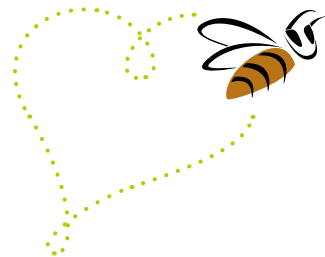

Our firm is located in the picturesque village Potštejn, in lovely foothills of Orlické Hory. We produce the best quality products and by this we help people, who need them - for health, beauty, or just for pleasure. Our firm is specialised in healing bee products processing (honey, royal jelly, pollen, propolis and bee venom) for cosmetics and food products. For manufacturing we use only good quality Czech honey. The bee breeding has long tradition in our family and we have been involved in it since the year 1969 and the processing of bee products started in 1990.

During the development and creation of new formulations we use the latest information from the global development and discoveries in the field of cosmetics.

Manufacturing is run with strict observed hygienic conditions and all products have medical testimonial according to the norms valid in European Union.

A bee is „an indicator“of unpolluted environment. A bee supports, cures, beautifies us and enriches our nature. That is the reason, why we use bee’s products into our cosmetics.

Pléva

Mission of the Family business Pleva

Bee products

HONEY – A product of western honey bees collecting nectar from flowers or honeydew in forests, enriching it with enzymes produced by their glands and storing it in a honeycomb where it matures to become honey. The composition of honey is very beneficial to humans. It largely consists of monosaccharides – glucose and fructose which is immediately absorbed into the blood. This is why honey does not represent a burden for the organism such as beet sugar does. It also contains acids, proteins, enzymes, mineral and aromatic compounds, micronutrients, vitamins, amino acids, pollen and other components in a harmonious composition.

PROPOLIS – A mixture of resins, ethereal oils and pollen that honey bees collect from tree buds and bark. It has been used by folk healers for ages.

POLLEN – A product equally as valuable as honey. It represents the main nutritional component for honey bees. Pollen supplies us with sufficient quantities of protein, fatty substances, vitamins and minerals. It also contains important vitamins of the B group, 12% of iron and the same amount of calcium and phosphorus. These minerals are required for the prevention of anaemia and for building bones, teeth and nerves. It also contains potassium, magnesium, chlorine, copper, cobalt, silicon and sodium. The 14% of fats it contains are mostly unsaturated fatty acids which reduce the blood cholesterol level.

ROYAL JELLY – A highly nutritious substance fed by the honey bees to their future queen larvae. Among other things, it contains proteins, fats, sugars, a small amount of minerals, vitamins, hormones, purines and amino acids. It is an exceptionally nutritious product with a high protein content and wide vitamin spectrum.

HONEY BEE VENOM – A venomous gland secretion accumulated in a venom sac. It is a colourless fluid with a bitter, sour flavour and a delicate aromatic scent. Among other things, it contains proteins, e.g. melittin, apamin, amino acids, sugars, enzymes and volatile substances. Honey bee venom is used for inflammatory rheumatic processes, joint, muscle and tendon inflammation and musculoskeletal system disorders and pains.

BEESWAX – It is produced in the wax-producing glands of the honey bee, located on the underside of worker bee's abdomen. Beeswax is used by honey bees for building their creation – honeycombs. Beeswax is used for producing candles which are a very attractive form of decoration and provide a pleasant aroma, while a lighted candle absorbs cigarette odour and its flame has a calming effect.

(100g)

4.2.

Skin lotion with Royal Jelly Elixir of youth

„While a normal bee survives barely two months in a beehive, the queen bee, fed by the royal jelly, lives up to five years. You can now also enjoy and use the incredible nutritional value of royal jelly that contains a whole range of vitamins and minerals. We have concentrated all its energy in this skin lotion. Your skin will be rejuvenated and youthful. It really works.“

(100g)

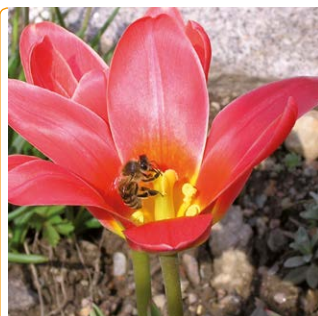

3.8.

Honey peeling cream

Honey peeling cream gently removes dead skin cells and refreshes the skin. A cleaned skin absorbs active ingredients much better. After peeling, a honey cream or a face mask can be applied. Honey nourishes the skin and makes it softer, smoother and more elastic. Honey is rich in proteins, minerals, vitamins, enzymes and other substances.

(50g)

3.10.

Skin cream and skin lotion for acne

This set of cosmetic products has been developed especially for a problematic skin. Apart from propolis, extra effective substances have been added to both components, e. g. extracts from seaweed (clinically tested) and other active ingredients useful for a skin suffering from acne. These substances reduce the development of sebum, counteract the growth of microorganisms and have a general healing effect. With regular use, the skin becomes more vibrant and healthy. Simultaneous use of both products greatly increases their efficiency.

4.8.

Massage balm with Propolis

A suitable massage relaxes your muscles and joints

„After an exhausting day I always relax and do something beneficial for my feet, hands and the entire spine. The best solution is a gentle massage that effectively relieves the joints, tendons and muscles, promotes blood circulation and supplies nutrition. The next morning I feel refreshed and full of energy again.“ (150g)

- ginger extract supports the blood circulation in the skin and warms it nicely
- methylsulfonmethan (MSM) to relieve pain and inhibit inflammation
- chondroitin sulfate strengthens the connective tissue and prevents the breakdown of collagen in the joints

6.1.

Honey shower gel

Refresh your skin with honey

„If you are looking for something new for your hair, this gel will change your feeling already after the first shower. Honey has very specific properties – it contains plenty of vitamins, makes the skin supple and keeps it moist. Enjoy the honey shower gel every day at least for a few relaxed minutes in order to feel well-balanced and centered.“

(200g)

6.2.

Bubble bath with Honey

Precious moments

„Give yourself 20 minutes of peaceful relaxation a day. Light the candles, lay in hot water and enjoy the soft cracking of the foam with honey scent. The muscles relax and rest, the stress decreases and you will feel strong again. The honey makes the skin supple and fine as silk.“

(200g)

6.10.

Honey liquid soap

Honey for sensitive skin

„It is not difficult to produce a scented liquid soap. But to produce a scented liquid soap so that it is most gentle, cleanses effectively and the skin does not dry out – it is a challenge. But we did it, in fact. We use honey, which effectively eliminates microbes and is very soothing. The whole family can enjoy its sweet smell now.“

(300g)

Soaps with products of bees contain natural moisturizing ingredients for immediate regeneration and subsequent elasticity and softness of skin, even after use in hard water. Soap doesn't carry any of widely used synthetic ingredients, which may often cause skin irritation or allergy. Soaps don't dry the skin.

6.3.

Honey soap

Supple skin

„To wash oneself with honey may sound as a crazy idea, but only as long as you try it out. Honey supports the hydration of the skin, soothes and smoothes it and smells wonderful. A great soap for the little ones.“

(95g)

6.5.

Soap with Royal Jelly

Nurturing touch of nature

„Royal Jelly is sometimes also called ‚the elixir of youth‘. The queen bee is fed royal jelly and she therefore lives up to 20 times longer than any other inhabitants of the beehive. So ... Why not use the royal jelly on your skin and maintain its youthful appearance as long as possible?“ (95g)

6.4.

Soap with Propolis

A radiant skin

„We have always liked to play with soap recipes, it is a beautiful, fragrant task. This is the first soap that we've ever done. It influences greatly the purification of a problematic skin, but it is also very fine, the skin does not dry out after being washed with it. The soap is very suitable for a skin with fungal infections or eczema.“ (95g)

6.9.

The gift set of tree small soap

Three kinds of small soaps can also serve as the testers which soap is the most suitable for your skin.

(3x20g)

6.12.

Caressing soap

The perfect touch

„We wanted to complement our regular series of honey soaps with a special, luxurious product. The result is this fine soap that soothes the skin with chamomile and hydrates it very effectively. Wonderfully suited for washing the skin, leaving it soft and fragrant.“

(100g)

6.13.

A rough caress

A very careful peeling

„Both the name and the composition of the soap is unusual – the soap contains crushed oak flakes, a very effective peeling. The dead cells are thus removed and the skin becomes pleasantly soft. Contrary to the name, the process itself is very soothing. The peeling is based on our usual high-quality fragrant honey soap with hydration effect.“

(100g)

6.15.

This soap is a real surprise for everybody

„Our new soap is a real surprise. It will make you happy four times: when you open the door and take over the fragrant parcel (you will immediately feel like taking a relaxing bath). When you unpack the soap and see the little treasure, the rose quartz, for the first time. When you use with natural honey. And finally, when the soap is used up and you hold the pink-colored stone of friendship in your hand.“

Hair cosmetics

5.3.

Shampoo with Propolis For a lion's mane

„Propolis is often used as an ingredient in skin creams. Thanks to its cleaning and regeneration effects it is considered a miracle cure. Shampoos, on the other hand, mostly do not contain propolis because of the complex manufacturing process – but the magical effect of propolis is visible even here. Our shampoo regenerates hair very effectively and is also suitable for a satisfactory control of dandruff. Get a strong, healthy hair and enjoy its fullness!“ (100g)

5.4.

Honey shampoo with conditioner Honey-fine hair, no hair static any more

„Our Honey shampoo makes the hair wonderfully soft; it is fine as silk after use. Do you want a nice and smooth hair, not flying away constantly and easy to brush? It is a simple thing with our shampoo, because we have enriched the recipe with a conditioner. It reduces the electrostatic charge, so that the hair is easy to comb and more shiny. The volume of the hair is significantly increased, too. The conditioner is also very suitable for short hair.“ (100g)

5.2. HEALTH – BEAUTY – STRONG HAIR = A NEW FORMULA FOR YOU.

Hair tonic with Royal Jelly How to deceive stress

„Hair loss is often caused by a burden that we can not cope with in daily life. Fortunately, there are substances that can suppress the negative effects of stress and eliminate hair loss. We use a variety of the verified royal jelly that contains an ideal blend of vitamins which supports the regeneration and the quality of hair.“ (115g)

5.1.

Hair tonic with Propolis No more hair thinning and shedding!

„It is rarely successful to prepare a cosmetic in such a way that it is effective in several problems simultaneously. But we have succeeded with this hair lotion, which contains apart from propolis a special extract, which strongly supports the growth of new hair both for men and women after only 14 days. It prevents both hair loss and hair thinning as well as dandruff. The skin just comes back into balance.“ (115g)

Enriched honey

9.3.

Royal Jelly honey Fit for a queen!

„Did you know that the queen bee lives up to 20 times longer than an ordinary bee? However, the two hatch in the same way. The only difference is in the food – the queen is only fed royal jelly.

The jelly contains lots of vitamins and minerals, and is a source of great vitality for the bees. It is only thanks to the jelly that the queen manages to survive the demanding pace of her life and live longer than the rest of the bees in the hive.“ Royal jelly is used in skin creams, but may also be available in vials or tablets.

(250g)

9.1.

Propolis honey

Propolis honey combats diseases!

„Bees use propolis to clean their hives, smearing this resin-like substance over anything that looks like a source of infection. It is only thanks to propolis they have survived until this day.“

(250g)

9.2.

Pollen honey

A large helping of power!

„Pollen is so much more than a known allergen! The bees are not the only ones who find it helpful.

Bees use pollen mostly to feed larvae, which require a lot of energy for their rapid development. Pollen gives them strength – without it, they would not be able to survive their harsh living conditions.“

(250g)

Due to regulation no. 1924/2006 of the European Parliament and the Council of the European Community, we can't provide any more information and health claims (for more information visit: www.pleva.cz/tvrzeni). The specific effects of propolis can be found on the Internet.

9.5.

Schizandra honey

A mysterious berry from China!

Schizandra is well known by many gardeners, it has different names, though. The plant is native to East Asia – in mountain areas, it is often used in place of tea.

Schizandra is a subtropical vine. In Chinese medicine, it is called "the fruit of five flavors".

(250g)

9.4.

Ginger honey

A real tornado!

„Everybody knows ginger, right? Originally a tropical plant, ginger is today a completely domesticated European plant. It is used to make teas and soft drinks, but is also a tasty cooking ingredient. Ginger has a slightly spicy flavor and an aromatic scent. 2% of our ginger honey is made of ground ginger root – although the root may not be as beautiful as the flower itself, it is literally a gift to humankind, concentrating in itself a number of effective and healthy substances. No wonder the healing powers of ginger are used as an ingredient in different healing substances.“

(250g)

9.6.

Ginseng honey

Ginseng – a royal privilege!

„It is well known that strained nerves can often use something sweet. This particular type of honey has much more to offer!

It contains ginseng, an exotic herb with remarkable properties. Ginseng was first mentioned in ancient Chinese writings around 100 BC, and said to have various soothing effects. For a long time, ginseng was only available to the rulers and the privileged.“

(250g)

9.7.

Guarana honey

A balm for your body!

„The guarana plant hardly needs an introduction, as its one of today's most commonly used dietary supplements. As it is rich in caffeine, traces can be found in energy drinks. Guarana comes from the Amazon rainforest. The local inhabitants, who had, for centuries, lived in harsh conditions, have always been very fond of it, as it provided the necessary energy boost during long and exhausting hunts. Once explorers from Europe learnt of its value, guarana quickly spread all over the world.“

Buckthorn honey

A miracle from Siberia!

„Our extraordinary collection of flavored honey wouldn't be complete without buckthorn in honey. Perhaps you've never heard of buckthorn?

It's quite a pretty plant to look at. It is called «a miracle from Siberia» or «the lemon tree of the North» in Russia.”

Pepper honey

Sweet as honey, sharp as pepper!

„Enjoy the sweet taste of honey combined with spicy pepper. In addition to an interesting experience, you can do something for your body – pepper provokes (stimulates) it is so many different ways!

In monasteries, pepper used to be banned, so the monks' souls wouldn't get too over-excited. It is also not without interest that people with a fiery temper – for instance South Americans or Hungarians – rank among the world's primary pepper consumers.”

Cocoa beans in honey 8 %

Food of the gods

Taste the unique blend of sweet honey and crushed cocoa beans. This sensual combination consists of Czech honey and high quality cocoa beans in organic form. The bittersweet taste is irresistible! The honey dissolves in the mouth soon and the crushed cocoa beans stimulate the taste buds in a very refreshing way. The cocoa beans are fruits of the cacao tree. The elongated berries are up to 30 cm long and contain 20—50 seeds. The seeds are later fermented and dried. Finally, their shell is peeled, crushed and inserted in honey.

Bees wax

Indispensable to this day

„Beeswax is nowadays known mostly as a material for the manufacturing of candles, but it is much more important. It has been used for the production of ointments, furniture polishes and egg decorations, for preservation of metal parts, or even for biscuit baking.“(20g)

Propolis

Indispensable to this day

„Whenever there is an infection in the hive, the bees do not hesitate and immediately cover the source of infection with propolis. Propolis is a resinous substance that actively eliminates all the bacteria and microorganisms because of its composition. The same power can be used for our bodies!“

Mead wine and mead

Mead wine and mead are produced by fermenting with the special yeasts. During the production it is not used the heat treatment of honey and by this it is ensure 100 % conservation of the important substances of the bee honey. Every fermenting from our production ends with the original taste of the product which is in the first place dependent on the sort of used honey.

Mead

Indispensable to this day

„Do you want to enjoy real quality? We do not use the traditional method of mead production, we do not warm it up it, so that the drink contains all the useful substances of honey and a reasonable degree of alcohol. Just select any kind of mead, according to your taste.“
